

SALLY HELPPIE WINS AS BEST PRODUCER AT FILM FESTIVAL

Sally Helppie won the award for Best Producer at the La Femme Film Festival in Los Angeles, October 18th, for “THE BEACON.” Now in its fifth year, the Festival showcases commercial films “made by women, for everyone.” Out of well over 1,000 entries, 93 films were selected to screen during the four-day celebration in the Theatre Row district of Los Angeles. In addition, the Festival included a number of industry panels, events and parties.

Walking the red carpet were such stars as Alfre Woodard, Diablo Cody, Sara Gilbert, Marla Gibbs, Lea Thompson, Sally Kellerman, and Elaine Hendrix (of “THE BEACON”). Emcees for the awards ceremony in the Renberg Theatre were the comedic team Frangela.

“THE BEACON” can next be seen during a series of sneak previews in Texas October 25-30, 2009.
